Our Courses

We offer a variety of courses that can be delivered at the Equal Opportunity Commission (located at Albert Facey House), across the Perth metro area, and in regional areas within Western Australia.

Training can be delivered face to face, online or in hybrid sessions. Courses can be customised to meet your organisation's or group's needs.

Our standard courses include:

- Equal Opportunity Law in WA
- Equal opportunity Law for Managers
- Sexual Harassment: Recognition, Responsibility and Response
- Workplace Culture: Discrimination, Harassment and Bullying
- Contact Officer Role Training
- Equity Grievance Officer Role Training

What We Cover

Our training programs cover a wide variety of subjects relevant to The Equal Opportunity Act 1984 (WA).

Typically, this includes:

Anti-discrimination Legislation Courses

- Introduction to the Equal Opportunity Commission
- Understanding discrimination, harassment and bullying
- Responsibility, liability and victimisation
- Workplace culture
- Complaints handling
- The EOC complaint process
- Taking action/bystander training

Community Education Courses

Community education courses are free for not for profits, community groups, volunteers, individuals utilising not for profit services, and some NGO's.

If you would like more information, or if you would like to speak with us about conducting training within your organisation or community group, please get in touch – we would love to speak with you.
