Community Electricity supports the Draft Rule Change Report including the several refinements following the consultation process.

In particular, we support progressing this rule change in parallel with the Electricity Market Review. More generally, we consider that the IMO should proceed with its Market Evolution Plan until there is reason to believe that doing so would substantively conflict with substance likely to be generated by the review. We would also note that the State Government recently conducted a well resourced energy review that produced no substantive outcomes. On that basis, we support normal development of the market without regard to the rhetoric surrounding the review.
