To whom it may concern, I would like to express my opposition to any electoral reform that reduces the input of rural communities into the democratic process of government in Western Australia.

Rural Australia through Agriculture and Mining is a major contributor to the state budget and as a small business operator for 35 years I have seen basic services to the regions deteriorate at an alarming rate, including Health Services, Postal services, Education services to name a few. Any further lack of representation can only be detrimental to the well being of hard working rural families and any government that countenances this will certainly not get my vote.
