

Sexuality and gender based bullying in schools

An equal opportunity fact sheet for parents/care givers

What is sexuality and gender based bullying?

Everyone knows about bullying in schools. But what if the bullying behaviour is sexual in nature?

All schools have a duty of care to their students and bullying is not tolerated.

But does this zero tolerance extend to bullying behaviour that is sexual in nature, and does it apply to sexuality and gender diverse students at your child's school?

Sexuality and gender based bullying can be similar to sexual harassment or sexual orientation discrimination.

It can be suggestive comments or jokes, insults or taunts, pictures, emails or texts sent by the bully and intrusive questions about a student's private life.

It can even be use of language such as another student saying, "that's so gay".

Is it against the law?

Yes sexuality and gender based bullying can be against the law.

If the bullying behaviour is sexual in nature it can be sexual harassment.

Just as it can be sexual orientation discrimination if a student has been treated less favourably by staff or students because of their sexuality, their perceived sexuality or the sexuality of their family or friends.

"It can be really hard to be out at school. When my girlfriend and I were bullied, it helped to talk about it with my mum and teachers." Alexis

What can I do about it?

Speak to a school staff member

Every school has an anti-bullying policy and procedure that may include gender and sexuality diverse bullying, so make sure you ask the principal or staff about the school's complaint procedure, this way you can bring the bullying behaviour to the attention of the school which has the responsibility to make sure the behaviour doesn't continue.

"As a parent of a lovely daughter who is also in a committed lesbian relationship I know just how special that relationship is to my daughter and myself. I would urge all parents to support their gay children."

John Wilson

Lodge a complaint with the EOC

Myth Busting!

MYTH : Homosexuality is contagious.

FACT : People cannot "catch" their sexuality. People cannot be "recruited" to be gay, lesbian, bisexual or heterosexual.

MYTH : Gay men & lesbians don't have long-term relationships.

FACT : Gay, lesbian and bisexual relationships do work. Long term partnerships are not rare at all. Many long term same sex couples may not access gay venues or frequent "the scene" and therefore are not as visible to the community.

MYTH : Bisexuals just can't make up their mind.

FACT : The point is they have! Sexuality is a range between exclusively gay and exclusively heterosexual, and many people are naturally in between. Everyone has a right to be who they are.

MYTH : Transgender people are confused about their gender.

FACT : Transgender people feel very sure about what gender they are. If they weren't, they wouldn't risk exposure to bullying and segregation to live as that gender.
