Partner

HATCH RobertsDay

Deon was raised in the Wheatbelt town of Kellerberrin - a formative experience that defines his passion for community and celebrating the uniqueness of our State.

His expertise in planning, urban design, and property spans over 28 years, including establishing the Melbourne studio of RobertsDay and then leading the national and international expansion as Managing Director until 2017.

Deon is now focused on the delivery of complex projects, with a special interest in heritage. He has led the firm's involvement in the Subiaco Pavilion, Hibernian Place/Westin, Perth Girls School, METRONET Morley-Ellenbrook line and associated Station Precincts.

He has travelled extensively, including on ground research of city strategy and leading projects in 20 of the current top 25 Monocle Liveable Cities. Deon has been involved in a range of volunteer property, university, community, and arts roles and is currently a member of the Salvation Army Property Advisory Committee and the Cottesloe Foreshore Committee.
