

State Design Review Panel – Biographies

---

Sarah Foster	Sarah Foster is an Associate Professor at the Centre for Urban Research at RMIT University and an Honorary Research Fellow at the University of Western Australia. She currently leads a research program examining the policy and practice of designing healthy equitable higher density communities, funded by Healthway and the Australian Research Council (ARC), and was recently awarded a prestigious ARC Future Fellowship (2022-2026) to examine the impact of apartment design standards on health and wellbeing.
Associate Professor
RMIT University	In 2021, Sarah received the RMIT Award for Research Excellence (Design). Sarah is a member of the Design and Social Context College Human Ethics Advisory Network and a Senior Assistant Editor with Environment and Behaviour, a high impact international journal. She holds a PhD in Population Health and a Bachelor of Science in Geography, with first class honours.

---