Section 22 of the Duties Act 2008

For a dutiable transaction not effected or evidenced by a hard copy instrument

Section 22 of the Duties Act 2008 (Duties Act) provides that where a dutiable transaction is not effected or evidenced by a hard copy instrument, the person liable to pay duty must make a transfer duty statement. The statement is required to be lodged pursuant to section 23 of the Duties Act within two months after the date that liability for duty arises.

For further information regarding dutiable property, new dutiable property and special dutiable property, as well as lodgment and payment obligations, please refer to Duties Fact Sheet 'Transfer Duty Overview', which is available from the website.

If the dutiable transaction relates to the acquisition of an authorisation or entitlement under the Fish Resources Management Act 1994, or a subsequent liability following an exempt family farm transaction, the respective transfer duty statements for these transactions are also available from the website.
