

SUBMISSION AMENDMENTS TO THE EPA ACT

- Included should be legislation that specifically deals with climate change and Greenhouse gas emissions
- Include provisions addressing climate change mitigation and adaptation including Climate Change as an express requirement for consideration under the EPA Act.
- A right to reasons why decisions are made should be included in the Act.
- A new Part VII should expand public appeal rights to ensure access to environmental justice, including merits review of decisions not to assess referred proposals and schemes and decisions on whether to grant.
