

Land Tax - Application for Residential Exemption

Use this form to apply for a land tax exemption for your private residential property

Submit the application form on page 3, making sure you have answered all questions. We may request supporting documentation, such as the examples listed on page 2.

Eligibility

Ownership of the land is determined as at midnight on 30 June in the financial year immediately before the assessment year.

To be eligible for a residential exemption, the land must be:

- owned by a person who uses it as their primary residence or
- owned by a husband and wife or de facto partners, with at least one owner using the land as their primary residence.

The land must:

- comprise one lot or parcel (see Commissioners Practice LT 1 'Private Residential Property, Two or More Lots of Land used as a Single Property' if the land is a parcel) and
- include a building that is being occupied as the owner's primary residence or
- include a building undergoing construction or refurbishment at 30 June and is now occupied as the owner's primary residence.

Your exemption will continue while you use the property as your primary residence. You must notify us as soon as your use of the property changes (such as if you rent out the property or live elsewhere).

Definitions and other information

Primary residence	An individual's sole or principal place of residence. See Commissioner's Practice LT 4 'Primary Residence' .
Private residential property	A lot of land on which there is a private residence. A parcel of land on which there is a private residence constructed so that part of the residence stands on each lot that constitutes a parcel.
Private residence	A building or part of a building that was occupied, or fit to be occupied and intended by the owner to be occupied as a place of residence.
Partial exemption	If you do not use all of the land for a primary residence or if some but not all owners use the land as their primary residence, a partial exemption is available based upon the owner's use and interest in the land.

Please note: If land with an area greater than 2.0234ha has received a residential exemption because the taxpayer has used it as their primary residence and the land is subsequently subdivided, we may retrospectively assess the land for up to 5 years.

When not to use this form

Land held in trust or owned by a company

Do not use this form if the land for which you are claiming a residential exemption is held in trust or owned by a company. This land does not qualify for residential exemption unless the land is held in trust for a disabled beneficiary and you should submit Form FLT26 'Residential Exemption Application: Trust Property used by a Disabled Beneficiary'.

Newly constructed or refurbished residences over two assessment years

Do not use this form if construction or refurbishment of your residence will take two assessment years. See the 'Exemptions Relating to Private Residences' fact sheet for further information and complete Form FLT24A 'Application for Two Year Residential Exemption'.

Supporting documents

Supporting documents must demonstrate that you resided at the property at 30 June in the previous financial year. For example, if you are applying for an exemption for 2023/24, you must have been using the property as your primary residence on 30 June 2023. You must provide at least two of the following documents with your application:

- Utility statements (gas, landline telephone, mobile) showing the date of occupation
- Invoices for the removal / delivery of personal effects to the new address
- Confirmation letters to change postal address (Electoral Commission, Driver's Licence)
- Receipt from Australia Post to redirect mail
- Contents Insurance or Motor Vehicle Insurance Policies
- Subscription invoices or statements (newspapers, magazines, pay TV or internet)
- Insurance renewal notices, bank statements, share statements or ATO assessments

Note Council Rates and Water Rates notices do not prove occupation of a property.

Newly constructed or refurbished residences

- Apply using this form once you have occupied your new residence. We may request supporting documents, including those showing proof of occupancy. See Commissioner's Practice LT 5 'Newly Constructed Residences' for more information.
- Apply using this form once you have occupied/reoccupied your newly refurbished private residence. Evidence showing the scale and type of work carried out should demonstrate you were unable to occupy the property at 30 June of the relevant year. We may request documents showing proof of occupancy. See Commissioner's Practice LT 6 'Newly Refurbished Residences' for more information.
