Managing works projects other than non-residential buildings

To procure works other than non-residential buildings, a Customer Agency must seek support from a Delivery Agency.

When requested, a Delivery Agency must provide support to the Customer Agency. The Delivery Agency should be principal to the contract(s) for the Customer Agency's required works, except in extraordinary circumstances. Extraordinary circumstances occur where the Delivery Agency deems it inappropriate to be contract principal for sound operational reasons.

If extraordinary circumstances apply, the Delivery Agency may provide the Customer Agency with advisory support only.

The Customer Agency must notify the Deputy Director General, Advisory Services Department of Finance (Finance) within 30 calendar days of the commencement of a works procurement support arrangement with a Delivery Agency.

If the Delivery Agency will be providing advisory support only, the Customer Agency must satisfy itself that the level of support will enable a value for money outcome to be achieved and does not create undue risk exposure. The Customer Agency must confirm this in its notice to Finance.

In notifying the Deputy Director General, Advisory Services under this general procurement direction, the Customer Agency is considered to have met the requirement of Rule C1 of the Rules.
