12	Part Two – Prevention and Mitigation (Paragraph 4)	Residential customers should also take responsibility for assessing their energy requirements and the extent to which they need to have contingency plans in place. However, this Plan recognises that consumers have differing levels of capability to implement mitigation activities. For example, businesses will usually have greater capability than residential customers, with a further reduction likely for at higher risk persons.	Amended from at risk to at higher risk, in line with sector language change.
12	2.1.2 Department of Local Government, Energy, Mines , Industry Regulation and Safety – WorkSafe Group	The Department of Local Government, Energy, Mines , Industry Regulation and Safety (DMIRS) (LGIRS) – WorkSafe Group oversees safety regulation of pipelines located in Western Australian coastal waters (from the three nautical mile limit to the mean low watermark on the mainland). This division also looks after the safety and structural integrity of onshore pipelines – both on the mainland and any islands.	Departmental name change – 2025 Public Sector Reform. WorkSafe is now part of Department of Local Government, Industry Regulation and Safety.
12	2.1.3 DEM LGIRS – EnergySafety Division	DEM LGIRS – EnergySafety Division has responsibility for the safety regulation of all low-pressure distribution networks that supply gas to commercial and residential customers in the State.	Departmental name change – 2025 Public Sector Reform.
12	2.1.4 The Australian Energy Market Operator	Heading amendment	Grammatical
13	2.2.3 DEM LGIRS – WorkSafe Group	Heading amendment	Departmental name change – 2025 Public Sector Reform.

14	2.3.2 DEM LG IRS – EnergySafety	Heading amendment	Departmental name change – 2025 Public Sector Reform.
16	3.2.3 Electricity Supply Disruption	Widespread extended blackouts significantly affecting service provision by damage to multiple essential service providers for a period in excess of 36 hours.	Grammatical
16	At Higher Risk Persons	During an incident, affected at higher -risk persons will be identified through consultation with members of the relevant State Support Group or Operational Area Support Group (OASG). The State Support Group or OASG will include agencies responsible for the protection of at higher -risk sectors of the community such as:	Amended, in line with sector language change.
26	4.2.11 Response Structure	A Level 1 (Yellow) response may require the establishment of an State Management Team, chaired by the Coordinator of Energy. If required, an State Support Group may be established during a Level 2 (Amber) response. The State Emergency Coordination Group (SECG) will likely be established during a Level 3 (Red) response.	Grammatical
30	4.2.12 Regional Responses Operational Area Support Group (OASG)	The HMA will establish an Operational Area Manager (OAM) and Operational Area Support Group (OASG) in each operational area, however it will retain a single whole-of-State Management Team that each OAM will report to. This allows the utiliz ^z ation of established emergency management structures for multiple operational areas, whilst continuing to reflect the nature of energy supply disruptions where incident response “on the ground” rests primarily with the affected asset operator.	Typographical error.
