

HENDERSON ALLIANCE

Connecting Western Australian industry with global defence and advanced manufacturing programs

PROMOTE | FACILITATE | DEVELOP | SUSTAIN | ADVOCATE

WHO WE ARE

The Henderson Alliance is a membership organisation supporting Western Australian SMEs to build capability and pursue opportunities in defence and advanced manufacturing. It promotes, facilitates, develops, sustains and advocates for SME participation across major programs while strengthening partnerships with government, Defence and primes.

The Alliance represents almost 500 member businesses, forming one of Australia's largest SME defence-industry networks and strengthening the visibility, competitiveness and readiness of local suppliers.

WHY HENDERSON MATTERS

Henderson, south of Fremantle, sits within a nationally significant industrial and maritime precinct central to Western Australia's defence capability. The region hosts advanced marine, subsea, fabrication and engineering operations that support sustainment and supply-chain roles for major naval programs, including frigate and submarine activities.

KEY REGIONAL ADVANTAGES

Advanced-manufacturing Workforce

Defence-industry Infrastructure

Maritime Expertise

Proximity to HMAS Stirling

Together, these elements make Henderson a critical national defence-industry hub supported by the Alliance's coordination of SME capability across the region.
